Nervous Prostration,

So prevalent, especially among women, results from overtaxing the system. The assimilative organs becoming deranged, the blood grows week and impoverished, and hence "that thred feeling" of which many compilate. For all such cases, there is no remedy equal to Ayer's Sarsaparlila. Take no other.

Ayer's Sarsaparlilla. Take no other.

"Some time ago I found my system entirely rin down. I had a feeling of constant fatigue and languor and very little ambition for any kind of effort. A friend advised me to try Ayer's Sarsaparlila, which I did with the best results. It has done me more good than all other medicines I have ever used."

—Frank Mellows, Chebea, Mass.

"For months I was afflicted with nervous prostration, weathers, languor, general debility, and mental depression. By purifying the blood with Ayer's Sarsaparlila, I was completely cured."

andrew Carnegie on the Subject—The Reason for the Activity a Real Home Mar-ket. Icw York Tribune of Sunday.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie was interviewed y a Tribune reporter. Among other nings he was asked:

"Mr. Carnegie, how do you account or the great rise that has recently taken lace in iron and steel in the United

"The explanation is to be found in the fact that prices have advanced so much in Europe as to prevent the foreigner from finding a market in America. The American manufacturer is, therefore, called upon to supply the wants of his country. For the first time he has undisputed possession of the home market. He was rapidly securing this all of last year, hence the manufactories were kept fully employed, nowithstanding only some 3,500 miles of railway were built, as against 11,000 the previous year, and 7,000 miles last year. The miscellaneous forms of iron and steel absorbed the surplus of the iron ore and pig iron produced. Europe has been able to sell us America more than 1,000,000 tons of iron ore and from 300,000 to 500,000 tons of finished iron and steel in various forms every year. These imports are now cut off, and the American minufacturer is suddenly called on to supply them. It feared that the strain for some time to come will be great upon him, and that prices will materially advance."

AMERICA STANDS FIRST. "In your Boston speech, Mr. Carnegie, ou said that America stands first among actions in the manufacture of iron and ateel."

"So she does, in the manufacture of finished iron and steel. Here are the fluores: In 1887 America manufactured 3,339,000 tous of steel, as against Great Britain's 3,170,000 tous. In iron, Great Britain manufactured only 1,711,000 tons, while in the Republic the product was 2,300,000 tons. But the most extra-was 2,300,000 tons. But the most extra-ordinary development has been in steel rails. We make about two tons for every ton made in England."

"The progress of steel rail manufacture seems to have been wonderfully rapid."
"Nothing like it in the world. Eighteen hundred and seventy-two was the first year year in which America made 100,000 tons of steel; filteen years later, in 1887, she made more than thirty times that amount. This is not an isolated illustration of our progress. In 1867 only 2,550 tons of steel rails were made in America; in 1887—tweety years later America; in 1887—twenty years later we made 2,354,000 tons."

—we made 2,354,000 tons."

"Are our steel rails cheaper than the Euglish product?"

"The price of steel rails to-day is fully as great in London as in New York. Not a cent of tuty on steel rails is paid by the American consumer. Prices are also substantially the same for steel plates and for many other articles of iron and steel.

"If the present prices abroad are to continue it would seem that a reduction of tariff duties might not injure the untry."

"You are right. But that little word abroad is sure to come, and rather than restrict production—which would increase cost—the foreign manufacturer will do as he has always done, make America the dumping ground for his surplus. The revenue reformer of freetrade proclivities always makes two assumptions which are incorrect. First, he compares costs on both sides of the Atlantic, adds the freight charges to almost a the firm of the measure of the tariff against the foreign product.

ANOTHER FEATURE.

ANOTHER PEATURE. "Now, difference in cost is only one element. To make iron and steel articles cheaply a manufacturer must make, let us say, 1,000 tons a day. If he can find a market for 750 tons a day to net a small margin of profit he had better sell the remaining 250 tons in America at an actual loss of several dollars per ton than to restrict production. Secondly, as to the extra cost of freight to the foreigner: The British manufacturer is closer to TRADE MARK 50 Cancers, Humors, Sores, Ulears, Lwellings, Tumors, Abecesses, Blood Poisoning, Sait Rheum, Caterrh, Ergapelas, Rheumatism, and all Blood and Skin Uleases.

Detroit, Mich. The British manufacturer is closer to the American markets on the seaboard the American manufacturer. The British manufacturer delivers his rails at Savannah, Charleston, Brunswick, Fernandina, Mobile, New Orleans and Pensacola for much less freight than any steel rail manufacturer in America can deliver his product at the same points. As for points on the Pacific coast, freights do not cost the foreign manufacturer one-half what they cost the American. cost the American. I have stood in the office of the iron kings of Scotland—the Bairds—and seen them give a steamship company, as a favor, the right to hauf from their iron yards in Glasgow and deliver to their iron yards in New York, free of cost, hundreds of tons of pig iron, the steamship company paying the cost of hauling from yard to yard. The ships that are sent to America for our cutton are often glad to fetch iron for ballast, and will at times bring it over for a mere trifle. It so some instances they have paid a trifle for the privilege. These facts are so potent, when understood, that there is no danger of any committee of the House or Senate being able to ignore them."

"Mr. Carnegie, I see that there is a demand from some points in the east that the duty should be taken off iron ore. What do you think of this?"

"That is a subject concerning which I certainly am in a position to give an impartial opinion, because, situated as we sre, indway between the east and the west, we can use foreign or Lake Superior ore indifferently. We have used many hundreds of thousands of tons in some years of the foreign article, Nevertheless, I am certain that the permanent prosperity of America will be promoted by retaining the present duty on iron ore.

such an extent as will enable the country to produce all the ore it requires. The ores mined in Cuba, and placed on ablobard at a cost of $1 a ton, as I am informed, labor being only 60 or 70 cents a day, and no royalties to be paid, can well afford to pay 75 cents a ton duty, as compared with American ores mined at a cost for labor three times as great. Besides this, it is always folly to attempt what it is impossible to carry. It is not the East nor the West, especially not the State of Pennsylvania, which is most vitally interested in the development of American mines, but the South. When the Mills bill was under consideration, not a voice was heard from Pennsylvania in regard to the ore, iron and steel branches. It was gentlement from Alabama, Tennessee and Virginia who protested, and so it will be in the future.

"Would Pennsylvania gain anything by a repeal of the duties?"

"As far as the State of Pennsylvania."

"Would Pennsylvania gain anything by a repeal of the duties?"
"As far as the State of Pennsylvania is concerned immediate benefit might flow from a repeal of the duties on foreign ore, although, as I have said, its permanent interests will be best served by adhering to the present duties. We are not legislating for to-day, only. We can never maintain our industrial supremscy if we have to depend for one or other supplies upon foreign markets. We must be sure of a home supply."
